Forward

This Maryland County’s five-year reconciliation roadmap and Action Plan (2019-2024) is an essential document intended to support peacebuilding and reconciliation at the county level. The document, developed through a participatory process, represents the needs, views, and aspirations of the people of the county in pursuit of sustainable development.

It is my ardent hope that this document, which is aligned to other national instruments and frameworks, like the National Reconciliation Roadmap, Peacebuilding Plan and Pro-Poor Agenda for Prosperity and Development (PAPD), will provide the foundation for the development of a national policy on achieving national reconciliation and healing in Liberia.

It is upon this background that I pledge the government’s commitment and support in the implementation of this plan, despite competing needs and limited resources. I therefore call upon all local and national stakeholders, as well as international partners, to embrace this document and use it as the roadmap for the pursuit of county reconciliation which will have a ripple effect at the national level.

Hon. George A. Prowd
Superintendent
Maryland County

1.0 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

This five-year peacebuilding, reconciliation roadmap and County Action Plan (CAP) provides a framework for the consolidation of peace, fostering peaceful co-existence, and enhancing development in Maryland County. This document harnesses previous and current peacebuilding efforts in the county and lays out a detailed strategy to achieve county level reconciliation through inclusive dialogues involving diverse stakeholders. It is aligned with and supports the government's reconciliation framework outlined in the Pro-Poor Agenda for Prosperity and Development (PAPD).

The five-year CAP was developed through a 'bottom-up' approach involving broad-based consultations in five (5) administrative districts in the county. The first level of generating information was the community dialogues, followed by district level forums that culminated into a county level plenary.

During these consultations, key stakeholders who participated in the dialogues were ordinary citizens, Local Government Authorities (LGA), representing different line ministries, as well as the Coordinator of the County Service Center (CSC). Other local authorities who were consulted were the Superintendent, District Commissioners, and traditional and religious leaders as well as representatives from Civil Society Organizations (CSOs), youth, students and women groups, and media practitioners.

In order to engender local ownership, a County Steering Committee (CSC) was established, comprising eight (8) persons headed by the Office of the Superintendent, representatives from civil society, the media, people with disability, youth and women groups. The CSC, in consultation with NAYMOTE's County Coordinator, planned, organized, and conducted all of the consultations for the information gathering processes which led to the development of this document.

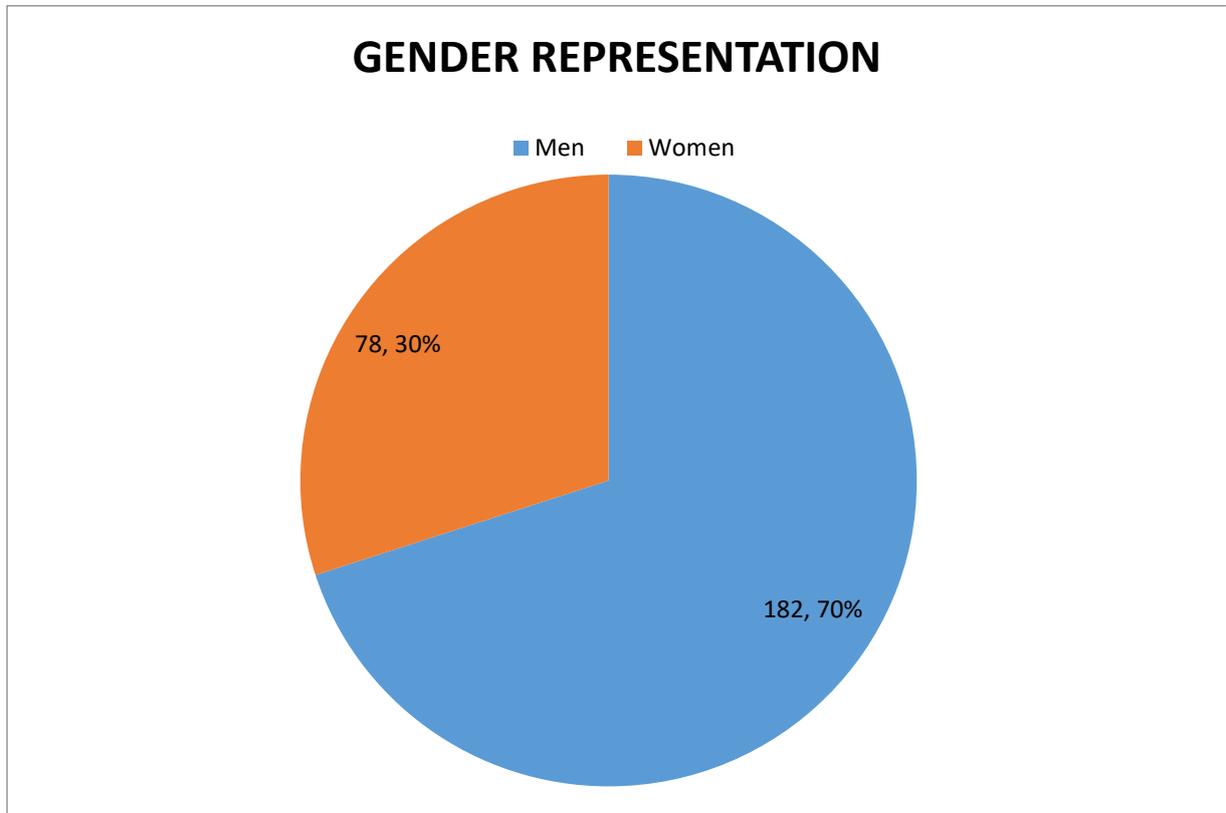

The Maryland County reconciliation roadmap has the following strategic objectives:

- To promote peaceful co-existence and mutual understanding amongst residents of the county irrespective of their religious, social, economic and political affiliations;
- To strengthen local capacities for conflict resolution, peace and reconciliation;
- To increase accountability and transparency in the management of the county's resources for its betterment;
- To increase adequate representation of diverse groups in the country's decision-making processes.

Drivers of conflict in the county were grouped into six (6) categories: Rule of law/security (limited access to justice); social cohesion (divisions due to intra and inter communal land disputes, violence against women, mismanagement of county's resources (County Social Development Funds), and the economy (unemployment and steady increase in the prices of basic commodities). The risk of conflict associated with violence against women was placed at medium level and the other categories were rated as high. This rating is an indication of fragility as the county is prone and vulnerable to violence.

The Advancing Reconciliation through Legislative Reforms and Civic Engagement project was designed to be helpful in setting the stage for genuine reconciliation and civic engagement. The project helped to generate information and data that feeds into the development of the County Reconciliation Action Plan 2024 for Maryland County, while framing actions which could consolidate peace in Liberia.

2.0 INTRODUCTION

Liberia remains a fragile state, despite the conduct of three successive democratic elections (2005, 2011, and 2017) declared to be free and fair by national and international election observation groups as well as substantial international support to the country's recovery and development efforts. The country's fragility is deeply rooted in its history and current experience of social, economic, and political exclusion, inequalities related to resources, including land, access to state resources, and limited access to justice. These factors combined have reproduced and reinforced divisions in varying forms, thereby undermining social cohesion and making national reconciliation a major priority, if the country's development efforts are to be sustained.

The previous government, under President Ellen Sirleaf, recognized that, despite gains made in other sectors, her government did not do enough to promote national reconciliation. This recognition was contained in her last annual address delivered on January 23, 2017 to the 53rd National Legislature of the Republic of Liberia. She asserted: "Let me say, straight out, two areas have continued to pose major challenges for our administration: corruption and reconciliation." She further stated: "Our country's long struggle for national reconciliation has its genesis in history. A coup d'état and years of civil conflict exacerbated longstanding divides that have left deep wounds. The methods and motivations of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) have not helped us to find a way forward to achieve the desired results for reconciliation. Nevertheless, we must continue implementation of the 207 recommendations in the Report, the majority of which have already been implemented. We are a small country, with relationships that cross the divide, and this has enabled us to remain united as a nation. Never must we forget that in union we are strong, and our success is assured. Therefore, we must all do more – I must do more – to heal these wounds, and do so this year, by implementing the Strategic Roadmap which has been formulated for this purpose. I believe that it will serve our nation well to take lessons from the experience of other countries by emphasizing restorative rather than retributive justice¹."

This statement of admittance was a demonstration of the challenge the country was facing in pursuing and achieving national reconciliation. In a similar vein, President George Weah, in his inaugural speech, emphasized the need for national reconciliation. He asserted; "The Samuel Kanyan Doe Sports Complex, built by the Chinese, where this Inaugural Ceremony is being held, is where I gained my exposure to the football world. It does not only stand as a monument of Chinese friendship toward Liberians, but it also stands as a symbol of peace and reconciliation for the Liberian people". "During our civil conflict, this was a venue that brought opposing factions together during national matches, effectively reconciling them to a single national purpose, Liberia. And once again today, we stand at this same venue united for one purpose: Liberia. This is time that we put away our political differences to work together in forging a New Liberia, where the affordability of all goods and services will no longer be a luxury to the privileged, but rather a right for all Liberians".

:http://www.emansion.gov.lr/doc/ANNUAL.pdf

The government's recognition of the country's need for reconciliation is contained in its PAPD. The entire pillar three (3) is dedicated to 'Sustaining the Peace' and specific topics, which include ending fragility and the root causes of conflict, increasing access to justice and reducing violent tendencies. All these topics are an integral part of fostering national reconciliation within a post-conflict context.

Despite public statements by national leaders about the relevance of national reconciliation that is reinforced in national development frameworks, like the PAPD, in order to sustain it, there must be a community dimension. This is the significance and value that this project brings to bear: mainstreaming the voices of community members and county leaders in carving their own reconciliation roadmap in sustaining the peace. What is unique about this project is that, it is rooted in the experiences of local communities, identifying the drivers of divisions and collectively advancing solutions highlighted in the CAP. If fully implemented, it increases the likelihood of local ownership and commitment to reconciliation.

3.0 BRIEF HISTORICAL AND SOCIO-CONTEXT:

Maryland County is located in the southeastern portion of Liberia and it is one of 15 counties that comprise the first-level of administrative division in the nation and has three electoral districts. Harper serves as the capital with the area of the county measuring 2,297 square kilometers (887 sq mi). As of the 2008 Census, it had a population of 136,404, making it the seventh most populous county in Liberia.

Named after the State of Maryland in the United States, it was an independent country as the Republic of Maryland from 1854 until it joined Liberia in 1857. The most populous city in the county is Pleebo, with 22,963 residents. The county is bordered by Grand Kru County to the west and River Gee County to the north. The eastern part of Maryland borders the nation of Côte d'Ivoire, separated by the Cavalla River.

Farming is the main economic activity in Maryland County, accounting for the employment of approximately 60% of residents. Rice and cassava are the main crops raised in the county. It is roughly estimated that about 98% of the county's population is Christian, 1% Muslim, and 1% Animist.

4.0 METHODOLOGY:

This section provides a summary of the methodology used in generating information that was used in the compilation of this report. It further gives a detailed account of the consultative process, community and district level forums held, county plenary held, involving diverse stakeholders that led to the conceptualization and development of the county reconciliation roadmap and County Action Plan (CAP).

This project adopted a participatory approach (bottom to top), mainstreaming the voices of ordinary citizens, as well as stakeholders' engagements at multiple levels. This methodology was intended to engender local ownership and increase the chances of sustaining the process through community participation. In pursuit of this agenda, NAYMOTE implored a citizens' approach, whereby residents were the key organizers, discussants, and provided the contents for drafting the County Action Plan.

The project started with an inception phase that involved the conduct of project briefing meetings at county and district levels with local and traditional authorities, as well as representatives from CSOs and the religious community. These meetings were intended to promote local ownership of the process and increase citizens' understanding of the objectives of the project, their roles and responsibilities, as well as the intended outcomes. The meetings further sought to get the buying-in of citizens.

One key outcome of the briefing meetings was the establishment of a County Steering Committee (CSC) comprising eight (8) persons headed by the Office of the Superintendent, representatives from civil society, the media, people with disability, youth and women groups.

Please see annex for list of members of the CSC. The CSC led the planning and organizing of the community, district and county level dialogues with logistical and technical support from NAYMOTE, through its County Coordinator.

The Advancing Reconciliation through Legislative Reforms and Civic Engagement Project, being implemented by Naymote Partners for Democratic Development, is building on the previous outcomes achieved². This County Action Plan was developed through the conduct of series of civic engagement events, including three community dialogues, two district level dialogues and one county reconciliation dialogue resulting in the development of a 5-year county level action plan for Maryland County, these activities engendered county consensus on the way forward for reconciliation. These dialogues will feed into a second phase of a national reconciliation conference in Monrovia where a 5-year work plan and vision will be validated.

² Through national engagement with the Liberia Peacebuilding Office (PBO), under the Ministry of Internal Affairs (MIA), and the county-level peace and reconciliation plans were developed (a step down to the Strategic Road Map for National Reconciliation and Truth and Reconciliation Commission Report), as a result of the National Reconciliation Conference held in March 2018. The county-level plans have been incorporated in the Strategic Roadmap, the official national policy to ensure an ongoing and sustainable process of reconciliation. This grassroots engagement filled in a critical gap in Liberia's Reconciliation Process by allowing it to be devolved at the sub national level.

5.0 Conflict Assessment in Communities

Community Meetings:

In pursuit of the bottom to top approach in the implementation of this project, a conflict assessment was held targeting 3 communities in the county, identified by the County Steering Committee (CSC) as hot spot communities.³ The assessment, which was conducted in the form of a townhall meeting, included representatives from women, youth, and local leaders. This assessment had two fundamental objectives:

- To gauge the views of ordinary citizens at the community level on the status of reconciliation in their communities;
- To identify conflict triggers, their root causes and implications on the county's development process.

In identifying the conflict issues, participants were divided into homogenous groups of youth, women and men. Feedback from the working sessions was discussed in plenary and consensus reached on the issues that were undermining the peace in each community. The institution conducted three Community Dialogues, bringing together 110 participants representing diverse sectors (males 75 and females 35).

A summary of the main drivers of conflict included the following:

At the community dialogues, participants identified limited security presence to respond to crimes in the community, impartial justice system, illicit drugs and alcohol abuse, land and boundary disputes, lack of basic social services (safe drinking water, latrine, roads). They also identified poor education and health care systems, limited women representation in local government structures and decision-making, rape, sexual abuse, the mismanagement of CSDF and funds for public projects, high exchange rate, increase in prices of goods and basic commodities, economic hardship, illicit mining done by foreigners and Liberian citizens who are not licensed, unemployment, especially among young people, etc.

5.1 Validation of Findings of the Assessment (District Level Dialogues):

The findings of the conflict assessment were validated through district level dialogues. In all, two districts level forums were held. During each dialogue, 100 stakeholders (32 females and 68 males) representing administrative authorities, traditional leaders, teachers, youth groups, women groups, security agencies, and CSOs participated. The forums also created the opportunity for participants to identify additional drivers of conflict that were not mentioned by community members who participated in the conflict assessment. Overall, the district dialogues validated the findings of the assessment and through a process of ranking and scoring, participants categorized drivers of conflict into low, medium and high risks as well as the stakeholders. During the regional forum, the issue of citizens' involvement in the negotiation of concession agreements dominated the discussions. One participant asserted: "Limited knowledge or information about concession agreements makes communities vulnerable to exploitation".

In addition to identifying the drivers of conflicts and their impact, participants, at the district level, were also asked about their views on the establishment of a war and economic crimes court in Liberia. Twenty-eight (28) persons out of 50 participants support the establishment of the court, including 5 women. Fourteen (14) persons had an opposing view, while eight (8) abstained and did not have a position.

Participants were further asked to rate the functioning of the County Service Center. Nine (9) out of fifty (50) persons said the Center was effective, as opposed to 41 who mentioned that it was ineffective due to irregular provision of services, as a result of inadequate electricity.

5.2 County Level Forum:

The assessment at the community level and the validation exercise through district dialogues culminated into the conduct of a one-day county forum. A total of 50 persons (male 39 and female 11) participated in the dialogue and they included senior administrative leaders of the county, such as the Superintendent, District Commissioners, and members from security agencies, traditional leaders, leaders of women and youth groups, as well as leaders of CSOs and the media. Individuals who took part in the district level dialogues were also participants, and this was intended to ensure continuity in the discussion regarding the information generated from the community and district levels.

At the forum, drivers of conflict that were generated from the communities and validated at the regional forums were presented by the facilitator to the participants for their endorsement or to make recommendations for adjustments where necessary. Through a participatory process guided by the facilitator, participants had the opportunity to review the issues and have an open conversation on them.

Through homogeneous group working sessions, participants discussed the issues and proposed responses and identified actors responsible for addressing them. The responses, captured as concrete actions served as the basis for the formulation of the CAP. The CAP will serve as the document from which peacebuilding and reconciliation actions or interventions can be undertaken in the county for the next five (5) years. While the CAP is not set in stone, reconciliation interventions by national and international actors must be aligned to the priorities contained in the document. The below matrix highlights the issues discussed at county forum:

8.0 RECOMMENDATION:

In order to avoid this document from sitting on the shelf, it is strongly recommended that the county administration in collaboration with the Peace-Building Office (PBO), the Ministry of Internal Affairs (MIA) and the County Legislative Caucus develop a fundraising strategy to raise funds for the implementation of specific pillars over the five-year period.

For the Government:

That the government demonstrates its commitment to peace and reconciliation as contained in the (PAPD) by allocating resources in the national budget for the implementation of county-level reconciliation efforts.

For the International Development Partners:

Develop a mechanism for the flow of information that will improve coordination in supporting peace and reconciliation efforts that will address the structural conditions of conflict in Liberia.

For the Peacebuilding Office/MIA:

Develop a strategy for the coordination of efforts among CSOs supporting national and county level peace and reconciliation efforts. The PBO should limit its role to project implementation and focus more on coordination and monitoring the quality of implementation of CSOs.

For Civil Society Organizations:

Peace and reconciliation interventions should be developed in close consultation with the PBO so that resources are maximized and are addressing the most pressing needs.

For Local Leaders:

Use the County Action Plan and Roadmap for setting the county's reconciliation agenda and engaging CSOs and development partners to influence their reconciliation program.
